If you have been in on a Monday recently, you may have had the opportunity to meet our newest practitioner, Dr. Cassandra Hurd, ND, LM. Dr. Hurd started seeing patients at Snohomish Valley Holistic Medicine in December, 2013. She is a licensed midwife and naturopathic doctor and is currently accepting new patients. She is in the process of credentialing with several insurance companies, so be sure to ask if her services are covered. For more information about her practice, please visit her website: <http://www.originsnaturalhealthandmidwifery.com/>. We are excited to have Dr. Hurd grow her practice at Snohomish Valley Holistic Medicine.
